

March 2021

Consumers and the Economic Outlook - UK

“GDP grew by 1.0% in the final quarter of the year as the economy bounced back more strongly than in expected in December, following the dip in November caused by the second lockdown of England and other lockdowns and restrictions in various parts of the country. Despite this slight ...

February 2021

Consumers and Saving - UK

“Much of the extra saving during the pandemic has been accidental, forced by the conditions rather than choice. It is therefore understandable that many will be keen to enjoy spending this money when the situation allows. Cancelled plans, missed family occasions and significant pent-up demand for more normal activities will ...