Consumers and the Economic Outlook - UK

"Rising inflation and concerns about stock shortages have shaken consumers' sense of financial wellbeing and confidence for the coming year. It is important to place the falls seen on these measures in October in context, however: the vast majority of consumers remain fairly upbeat.

November UK Retail Briefing - UK

"The retail sector moves into the final two months of the year in a far better position in 2021 than in 2020. However, while the pandemic led-restrictions which disrupted trade in 2020 have eased, inflationary pressures and uncertain consumer confidence make peak 2021 no less challenging. While these factors will ...

September UK Retail Briefing - UK

Covid-19 has made people reprioritise, with people giving aspects such as the environment and their local community higher priority than they did before the pandemic hit (see Impact of COVID-19 on Consumer Behaviour). This has, in turn, highlighted the need for retailers to adopt ethical policies. Shoppers now expect retailers ...

September 2021

Consumers and the Economic Outlook - UK

"The end of social distancing and the associated boost to retail, leisure and entertainment spend brought about an immediate rebound in economic activity, and GDP grew by 4.8% in Q2 2021. Consumers have also responded positively, with Mintel's current financial wellbeing and financial confidence trackers reaching new record-highs in ...

August UK Retail Briefing - UK

Similar to wider retail, COVID-19 has had a profound impact on the furniture market since its outbreak in March 2020. However, in contrast to many of these other markets, this has not been characterised by a sharp decline. Although spending dropped in 2020, following huge turmoil in the middle of ...

Consumers and the Economic Outlook - UK

"Despite the continuing upheaval caused by COVID-19, financial wellbeing and financial confidence both hit new index highs in April 2021, while planned financial activity for the next three months approached pre-pandemic levels in May, driven by increased interest in leisure and hospitality.

While there are growing signs of polarisation and ...
